Dear Henry,

Very fair piece. Thanks for it.

Sorry I didn't ask you for a copy of the McKnight article. He's heard it was used in the evening paper of the 26th. I suppose he'll eventually have a copy sent to him.

Maybe you'll be able to use those records you took in a separate story.

If you do, there are more where they came from!

I hope you can get to Hood on the 12th, too.

In the past the women have always had snacks of some kind so I presume they will this time, too, because it is at supper time.

Jerry has not yet gotten clearance to use the Continuing Ed ~~hink~~ building but that is where he plans to have it.

More informal there. With provisions for coffees, refrigeration, etc.

I suggest that you phone when you know if you can so I can tell you where to park and how to get to the right place. It is a small campus so it won't be far from parking.

McKnight is one of three professors of the many who teach a course on political assassinations that do not treat it as a whodunit. There may be others of whom I do not know, of course. The others are at Wisconsin (Stevens Point) and Wofford, Spartanburg, S.C. Wofford is a good, small Methodist college and that professor is a sociologist.

Both are now friends.

One of your readers phoned me early yesterday to ask how to get the Livingstone book and I told him and then Livingstone phoned. He was, of course, pleased. And he had just filled a wholesale order for almost half of his second printing.

There is other interest on other Maryland campdi. I was asked to go to Frostburg and referred them to Selby. For the assassination anniversary. Too far for me now.

Last year I was asked to go to Mount St. Mary's for it. That is not too far but it was right after my vataract was removed, so I suggested Selby and they loved him.

I hope you can make it the 12th. If you do and would like something a little more substantial to eat Lil can have something.

Best wishes,

Harold
